

Student award, scholarship and fellowship payment form

SECTION 1 The definition of a student award is any payment that is intended to reward the student for an educational accomplishment or provide them with financial assistance to pursue an educational goal. Educational awards include the following types of payments: tuition and fees, room and board, travel, research, supplies and equipment, books, computers, student health insurance and medical expenses.

Please Note: Awards to students that are educational in nature are generally considered